Rachel Nolan Welcomes HACC funding in Ipswich

Member for Ipswich Rachel Nolan has welcomed extra funding to support local Home and Community Care (HACC) service providers.

Minister for Disability Services Lindy Nelson-Carr and Federal Minister for Ageing Justine Elliot have jointly announced an extra $19 million to support services around the State.

Ms Nolan said the funding had been allocated to projects which will give frail aged and people with disabilities more support in Ipswich. Recipients of funding include:

- Ipswich Dementia Day Respite Centre
- Blue Care Multicultural Liaison Project – West Moreton
- Home Visiting and Support Service/Emergency Alarm Service

Ms Nolan said HACC services were important to local residents because the funding supports them to stay living locally and using local services where ever possible.

“HACC services allow residents to continue living as independently as possible in their own home,” Ms Nolan said.

“This is important for the wellbeing of individuals and their families.”

The HACC program is a joint Federal, State and Territory governments program.
